Foxit PDF Creator Toolbar is a lightweight Firefox and Internet Explorer extension built specifically for helping users convert different files and images to PDF file format. The program offers support for toolbar integration, so you can easily access its features. It actually embeds a toolbar which lets you carry out conversion operations and searches on the Internet. It sports a clean and intuitive layout that allows you to perform most operations with minimum effort. Foxit PDF Creator Toolbar gives you the possibility to convert documents and images with different file formats, such as DOC, XLS, PPT, HTML, TXT, JPEG, BMP, GIF, or others to PDF file format. What's more, you are allowed to perform search operations, pick the Ask search engine, open the search results in the current window, display the searches, as well as automatically clear the search history when you close the web browser. Last but not least, you can select the toolbar language from a preset list. Since it doesn't require much computer knowledge to configure the dedicated parameters, even rookies can master the entire process with just a few clicks. During our testing we have noticed that Foxit PDF Creator Toolbar carries out a task very quickly. On the downside, it hasn't been updated for a while, so it may cause compatibility issues on newer operating systems. To sum things up Foxit PDF Creator Toolbar proves to be a simple-to-use extension that bundles only a few settings for helping you convert different files and images to PDF file format. Office 365, as the online version of the Microsoft Office suite, was one of the few products to avoid the Free Upgrade offer when Microsoft moved to the new subscription model in the back end of 2015. Office 365 will get three new subscription models in 2018. One will be a monthly one with prices of €6.49 / month for 3 licenses, €9.99 / month for 6 licenses, and €14.99 / month for 12 licenses. The other two will be a annual subscription with prices of €24.99 / year and €49.99 / year for 2 licenses, 3 licenses, and 5 licenses, respectively. While I think that the monthly version is a good idea from a business point of view, I can't say the same about the annual subscription model. For a personal use, this will be a real pain. Since all users would need to buy a new license for the first year, the prices for all Office
